

Russia Agrees To Big Four Conference At Geneva July 18

Bar Points
Brought Up
By Dulles

MOSCOW, June 13 (AP)—The Soviet Union agreed today to a Big Four meeting at Geneva July 18, but sharply denied that either the status of East European Communist nations or the role of international communism was a matter for the summit conference.

Announcing the acceptance of the time and place, the Russians accused the United States of bringing up such questions in an effort to torpedo the conference. The aim of the meeting, they said, should be primarily to "lessen international tensions."

Longer Conference
A Soviet note strongly indicated the Kremlin wants the conference of Premier Bulganin, Prime Minister Eden, Premier Faure and President Eisenhower to last more than the three or four days suggested by the West. It is assumed here that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov will discuss this point when he meets in San Francisco next week with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay.

The Foreign Ministry summoned correspondents to hear the reading of a press statement accusing Dulles of attempting to set preconditions for the conference so as to handicap its aims.

Although the formal note accepting the date and time of the conference was not so specific as the press statement, there seemed little doubt the U. S. S. R. would refuse to discuss either its position with regard to world communism, or the Communist regimes of Poland, Albania, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Bulgaria. The press statement said no problem concerning these states existed.

Tass Quotes Dulles
(Dulles in a television report to the nation last month said the summit conference might set up processes toward solution of such problems as German reunification, arms limitations, the problem of satellite Communist nations dominated by Moscow and problems "created by international communism, which is such a pest all around the world.")

When the Soviet Foreign Office press chief, Leonid Ilyichev, finished reading the Soviet note to correspondents, he announced he would read a dispatch of the official news agency Tass commenting on statements by Dulles.

This statement quoted Dulles as saying he intended to bring up the Eastern European and world Communist questions and as remarking that the summit conference's success would depend on whether the Soviet Union was ready to show a "new constructive spirit."

"It should be clear to all," the Tass statement said, "that no problem of the countries of Eastern Europe exists, since the people of these countries, having overthrown the rule of the exploiters and established people's democracies, will not allow anyone to interfere in their internal affairs."

Question Capitalism
"As for the activity of international communism, would it be permitted to ask Mr. Dulles how he would regard the introduction at the conference of the problem of international capitalism?"

The statement said Soviet circles felt Dulles was "treating the forthcoming conference of the heads of government from the notorious policy of a position of strength, and as if its success depended on the actions of the Soviet government."

Adlai Urges Support Of Ike At Talks

OBERLIN, Ohio, June 13 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson today urged the nation to help President Eisenhower in the forthcoming big powers conference by not tying his hands with narrow, uncompromising ideas.

The former Democratic presidential candidate, speaking at Oberlin College's 122nd commencement, also called on Americans to guard against "massive mental and emotional manipulation," demagoguery and the tendency to put ugly labels on unpopular ideas.

Discussing the projected peace talks, expected to take place in Geneva by leaders of the United States, Britain, France and Russia on July 18 Stevenson said:

"Our role is to keep our hopes high but our heads clear, to consider every suggestion honestly and dispassionately, to look for the bases of agreement, and not least, to be willing to take some reasonable chances."

He said America may have to accept something much less than perfection, "but better than the alternative which is a sharpening and prolonging of ugly, dangerous tensions."

Union Sets New Goal

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther said today that as soon as the merger of the CIO and AFL is completed, the new labor group will undertake a mass organization campaign among white collar workers.

Borough Officials Accept Expanded Sewage Works At Final Inspection

FINAL inspection of Stroudsburg's expanded and rehabilitated sewage treatment works yesterday by consulting engineers, borough engineers, Municipal Authority and Council members resulted in acceptance of the plant.

Both contractors involved, Tri-State Constructors, of Elkins Park, Pa. and Matt Kime, Stroudsburg, were represented at a tour of every segment of the new and expanded installation.

Albright & Friel, consulting engineers were represented by George Fieldhouse, supervisor of construction for that firm. Mrs. Fieldhouse first gave an explanation of all phases of plant operation for treatment of sewage.

Robert Brown and Gordon De Furis represented Tri-State Constructors. Edward Rahn represented the electrical contractor, Mr. Kime.

Engineer Edward C. Hess represented the borough along with Council President Edward R. Lawson and Councilman H. G. Heller. The authority was represented by Russell C. Hughes, chairman; Randall Marsh, Henry G. Tucker and Frank L. Stackhouse. John Garcia, engineer in the Hess office, and inspecting engineer on the job, was present.

Total cost of the improvement was $155,550 which the authority financed with a bond issue.

Mr. Fieldhouse advised the authority his firm would certify satisfactory completion of the work, except for some minor improvements to landscaping which the contractor will carry out immediately. It was agreed the contractor, with payment of his final amount on total contract, will give a performance bond covering any repairs or adjustments which may be needed within the next year.

James Somers, borough treasurer; Judson Lee, plant operator and Harvey Burris, assistant plant operator, participated in the inspection.

Most of these details were worked out at a luncheon meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Contractors were complimented for their efficient work and cooperative attitude during the project by Mr. Garcia, inspecting engineer.

Mr. Hughes thanks the engineers and contractors for their services on the project.

Burgess Hal H. Harris thanked the authority members for the skillful manner in which they handled the entire project.

The Senate debate on taxes developed as the House Appropriations Committee went into a final week of hearings on the administration's proposed $1,800,000,000 budget for the two-year fiscal period starting last June 1.

The House received 50 million dollars in new appropriation bills to meet the state payroll and other obligations for July. Fifteen millions additional was asked for the Public Assistance Department to qualify for federal grants for August and September.

In another development, Chairman Paul L. Wadner (R-Schuyler) of the Senate Education Committee promised "proper treatment and consideration" for fair employment practices plan.

The House-passed measure, designed to ban discrimination in employment or union membership because of race, creed, color or union membership, is scheduled for action tomorrow by Wagner's committee.

Similar plans in the past have died in Senate committees.

Nominates Green
The governor formally nominated Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia Democratic chairman, for the $15,000 a year chairmanship of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to succeed Thomas J. Evans, Coaldele Republican.

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin) has described Green's appointment as "political" and it was expected the GOP would withhold confirmation indefinitely.

Stabbed Teacher Leaving New York
NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Stabbed in the back last week by one of his students, Bronx school teacher James O'Farrell said today that being a teacher in New York is "a murderous thing" and he is moving out.

Effective In 1956
Neither the GM nor Ford guarantee becomes effective until June 1, 1956. GM like Ford, will contribute five cents an hour per worker to a trust fund to finance the plan over the next three years. GM's fund will build up to 150 million dollars; Ford's to 55 million, because it employs 140,000 against GM's 375,000.

Vice President Harry W. Anderson, of GM, said the new agreement guarantees pay raises of six to eight cents hourly for all employees in each of the next three years and gives an extra raise of at least six cents hourly to skilled workers.

TOKYO, June 13 (AP)—The prosecutor didn't like the 15-year term handed Chen Fu Feng, 28, for killing a holdup victim. He appealed to the Japanese Supreme Court for a stiffer sentence.

"That the number of days the slayer spent in prison be deducted from the life sentence."

Actually, it still makes some sense; in Japan, a lifer can get off on good behavior after 10 years.)

Look at Marines
Miss Carraway gloomily recalled a recent meeting she attended.

"There must have been 1,000 women there," she said. "Every last one of those women were patriotic—I'm sure of that. Yet when the Marine band played 'The Star Spangled Banner,' instead of facing the flag on the other side of the room, as they should have, they all looked at the Marines in those beautiful uniforms."

Miss Carraway's point is: Since everyone wants to show respect for the flag, and since the rules are simple, why not be right?

So whenever the national anthem is played (1) stand at attention, facing the flag, and (2) place your right hand over your heart. The exception, of course, is the military man or woman in uniform, who salutes.

Okay. Is citizenship class over now, Miss Carraway?

The answer is no. This is where the trouble starts.

"Don't Loll"
Miss C. says many women don't know what it means to stand at attention. "They lean this way or that," she said. "They loll."

Furthermore, since many women lug around enough bundles and baggage for a three-day primitive camping trip, they have a tough time dropping their left hands at their sides.

Miss Carraway has some firm advice on this. Put those bundles down, girls, so that the left hand is burdened with no more than a purse

Dent Bids GOP Senate To Vote Payroll cuts

HARRISBURG, June 13 (AP)—Democrats challenged the Republican-controlled Senate tonight to go on record formally favoring a 20 per cent cut in the number and salaries of state employees as an economy measure.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, staged the surprise maneuver in an obvious attack on Sen. Robert D. Fleming (R-Allentown) who has contended 42 million a biennium can be saved by payroll cuts.

"Show us how to do it," Dent asked the GOP senators. "Cut 20 per cent from state police. Cut 20 per cent from teachers. Cut 20 per cent from hospitals of Pennsylvania. We don't believe it can be done."

Dent first attempted—but was blocked by Republicans—to submit a resolution "in behalf of Sen. Robert Fleming speaking for the Republican State Committee at the request of his (Fleming's) TV audience."

Endorsement Of Tax
The resolution said it was "in effect and endorsement of a more burdensome state sales tax to be paid equally by pauper and millionaire."

Fleming bitterly retorted that he didn't need Dent to sponsor a resolution "for me," adding with a shout:

"Call it (Gov. Leader's 411 million dollar classified income tax plan) what you will it is still a wage tax. It is an oppressive tax."

Fleming, in a recent telecast answering Leader's plea for the income tax, said the cost of government should be cut by 100 millions or more and the sales tax doubled to 2 per cent to balance the budget.

The Senate debate on taxes developed as the House Appropriations Committee went into a final week of hearings on the administration's proposed $1,800,000,000 budget for the two-year fiscal period starting last June 1.

The House received 50 million dollars in new appropriation bills to meet the state payroll and other obligations for July. Fifteen millions additional was asked for the Public Assistance Department to qualify for federal grants for August and September.

Atomic Ship Request Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee today torpedoed President Eisenhower's plan for an atomic-powered exhibit ship to sail around the world, but approved development of a nuclear ship's engine for what they considered more practical purposes.

A 21-million-dollar request for the Eisenhower project was turned down.

At the same time the committee announced it had approved a separate administration request for 25 million dollars to build an atomic reactor or furnace for use in a surface ship. It said it would make clear that the reactor be adapted either to a military vessel or a freight-carrying merchant ship.

The committee also allotted five million dollars to carry out the program announced by the President Saturday for helping other nations to build atomic power reactors.

New Fighting Breaks Out In Argentina
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 13 (AP)—President Juan Peron warned in a nationwide broadcast tonight that his supporters would suppress "with all energy" further riots between Catholics and their opponents.

New fighting broke out in the Plaza de Mayo in downtown Buenos Aires late today, a few hours before Peron spoke. It was in the plaza that 29 persons were injured in weekend clashes between followers of the Roman Catholic Church and supporters of the government.

A crowd of demonstrators shouting "Peron yes, priests no," marched on the Metropolitan Cathedral and the palace of Argentina's cardinal tonight in an effort to plant an Argentine flag atop the palace. They were driven back by Catholic churchmen guarding the edifice.

Earlier, federal police had raided the palace, searching the rooms of Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello and arresting 439 persons inside. Thirty-seven other persons were reported arrested last night and today.

Ridgway Named Mellon Institute Board Chairman
PITTSBURGH, June 13 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, 60, retiring Army Chief of Staff, today was named chairman of the board of trustees of Mellon Institute of Industrial Research.

Ridgway's appointment was announced by Richard K. Mellon, a member of the board and a son of Richard E. Mellon, a founder of the institute.

Mellon said Ridgway would assume his duties about the middle of September. Ridgway will retire from the Army June 30.

Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, 68, president of the institute, has been filling the duties of chairman. Weidlein will continue as president and a member of the board.

Ridgway will assume chief administrative responsibility of the institute, freeing Dr. Weidlein for specific research leadership.

Three Give Addresses At Commencement

NEWFOUNDLAND—The three major student addresses at Greene-Dreher-Sterling commencement exercises this year were centered around the one theme: "Citizenship For Today."

The three addresses were: "In the Field of Work," by Virginia Uhl; "In Our Social Organization," by Charlotte Robacker; and "In the Area of Spiritual Concepts," by Lorraine Grimm.

In her talk, Miss Uhl pointed out that "we have been learning to live successfully with other people, we must now also try to work successfully with them."

"Our country has changed greatly since the time of the early settlers. Then each family was more or less a unit by itself. . . . The family as a group worked together to supply food, clothing and shelter."

Work Center Changes

"Gradually with the invention of machinery, the work center shifted from home to factories. . . . Today there are more than 25,000 different occupations and industries in the U. S. From a predominantly rural population of former days, we now find large, heavily populated industrial areas. The farmer of today is not nearly so self-sufficient. . . ."

"Efficient industry is the outcome of good relations between the employer and labor. The necessity for teamwork on the part of employees and employers must be even more generally recognized in the future. . . . Personal advancement at the expense of others is bought with too high a price."

"Very often education and preparation are stressed as being of utmost importance for a vocation, but we find that other characteristics are equally responsible for success. . . . One may have the occupational requirements, but if his personal traits do not match his training, he will probably fail to advance in his field. In preparing for an occupation, it is just as important to cultivate qualities of good citizenship as it is to learn vocational skills."

Home Is Foundation

Discussing citizenship in social organizations, Miss Robacker said: "Without a doubt the family is the basic social group. It is the matrix in which the most significant habits and attitudes are laid down in the individual. The home is the foundation of society and its welfare is vital to the welfare of the church, the school and the community."

"The habits and attitudes formed in the home are carried over to all other groups. In fact, the whole community depends upon the interest exerted by each family. Some people may feel that they have fulfilled their obligations to the community when they have paid their taxes."

"But citizenship is more than paying taxes or voting on election day—as important as these contributions may be. Real citizenship also involves an intelligent interest and participation in community affairs."

Some Contribute Nothing

"Some families may live all their lives in a community and contribute little or nothing to the development of their neighborhood because of their failure to participate in community affairs. On the other hand, if the life of the family includes active participation in the church, the PTA, the Women's Clubs, Scouts, Rotary, Veterans' organizations and other community organizations, then they are contributing to the development of the community."

In her address, Miss Grimm told her audience: "Perhaps the most important part of being a good citizen is spiritual. . . . No matter where we go we have the opportunity of seeing something in someone else that will contribute to our spiritual growth. We can better ourselves not only by observing the good in other people and trying to emulate it, but also by observing the bad and promising ourselves and God that we will try our best to avoid wrong."

THE BALER WITH profit BUILT IN!

NEW Ford 250 PTO HAY BALER

The new Ford 250 PTO Hay Baler is profitable to own because it pays for itself on fewer acres. Since it holds baling costs to a minimum, profits stay up. But that's not all. By baling hay quickly, at the peak of its richness, more feeding value is locked into each bale. And by handling hay gently, more of the nutritious leaves are saved. With less waste, each acre of your hay produces more meat, milk or wool.

Engine Driven Model also Available
All these profit-building advantages are yours with the new two-tie Ford 250 Hay Baler. Come in and see them.

Low Cost —PAYS FOR ITSELF ON FEWER ACRES

- Lifts hay only 24 inches—saves leaves
- Plan-stop plunger—faster baling
- Sure-action sweep fork reduces clogging
- Simple design—fewer parts
- Compact—smooth running—high pulling
- 18 HP air-cooled engine for engine driven model

Scott, Yosko Press For Action On Water Resources Bill

Ask Approval Of Measure For Delaware

HARRISBURG, June 13 (AP)—The House was urged tonight to approve a Senate-passed resolution to establish a special legislative study committee to look into all plans for utilization of Delaware River water resources.

Calling for speedy passage of the resolution were Sens. William Z. Scott (R-Carbon) and Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton), co-sponsors of the measure which won committee approval in the House last week.

The resolution originally was introduced as a follow-up on proposed legislation before both the House and Senate to authorize Pennsylvania to enter into an agreement with New Jersey under which the Keystone State could build a multi-million dollar impounding dam at Wallpack Bend, Pike County.

Scott declared there is "no more important bill before the general assembly this session" than the Delaware River dam and water supply measure.

"Giveaway" Bill
But pointing out that it is "generally known that I oppose this legislation" proceeded to explain his stand against what he termed the "giveaway" bill—giveaway in that he believes it provides boons for New Jersey with but little for Pennsylvania.

"First of all, do we need the dam?" Scott asked. "If the Leader administration can have someone on this floor say that we need it, I will vote for it. But no one has said it."

Scott said he could see no reason why in addition to Pennsylvania's bearing the brunt of the cost of the 60 million dollar proposed dam and authorizing New Jersey to take an additional 100 million gallons of Delaware River water per day another provision of the bill.

The legislation also would require Pennsylvania to pay real estate taxes to New Jersey municipalities on land taken by eminent domain for construction of the dam, Scott said, asking:

"How are we going to do something for the state of New Jersey which we never have done for our own municipalities?"

Won't Spend Money
"New Jersey is not willing to spend that money (for other plans) if Pennsylvania can be made to foot the bill," Scott asserted.

The senator, whose district covers a large section of Delaware River bordering counties, promised nevertheless that should a study committee find that the bill has merit he "although I may not vote for it, I will not rise in opposition."

Yosko in calling for House passage of the resolution, asserted that if there is "anything objectionable" in the bill it is the fault of William G. Schnader, Philadelphia attorney, and the administration of former Gov. John S. Fine.

Barrett Appreciation Week Committee Completes Plans For Award To Mrs. Price

THE BARRETT TOWNSHIP Appreciation Week Award Committee has completed plans for the program Wednesday night, when Mrs. Raymond Price Sr. will receive the Appreciation Week Award for 1955. The award is in recognition of Mrs. Price's many services to the citizens of the township and of Monroe County.

Brief messages will be given, covering some of the phases of Mrs. Price's activities, by friends who have been associated with her in her various activities.

Mrs. Price will speak of the work with children and the ill and needy in the community. William W. Malleson Jr. will tell of the work of the Welfare Committee of Skytop Club, of which Mrs. Price has been chairman for several years.

Frank S. LaBar, president of the board of the Monroe County General Hospital, will recount some of Mrs. Price's experiences in helping that institution. Dr. Herbert A. Lorenz, on behalf of the sponsoring organizations of the township, will outline the reasons for Mrs. Price being selected for this year's award.

Presentation of Plaque
H. Irwin Shinen, president of the committee, will present a silver plaque to Mrs. Price, the plaque being inscribed with a brief statement of Mrs. Price's contribution to the good of Barrett Township. Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, past president of the committee, will act as toastmaster, and introduce the speakers. The invocation will be offered by the Rev. Edgar B. Moore, pastor of the Canadensis Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Price and her family are members.

Following the presentation of the plaque, an orchestra will provide music for dancing. The dinner preceding the presentation will be held at Onawa Lodge at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The committee announced that a few tickets remain on hand, and anyone who wishes to attend the community affair will be able to secure reservations by calling Onawa Lodge in Mountainhome, as long as the supply of tickets lasts. Mrs. Price's activities have not been confined to Barrett Township, but have affected people in many parts of the county, and friends from outside the township will be welcome to join in this tribute.

Playground, Pool Hours Announced

THE EAST Stroudsburg borough playground and swimming pool will open for the season on Wednesday morning at 10.

Playground and pool director Lewis Hastie said that there have been some changes in hours for the two community play areas this year. Hastie announced the following schedule:

The swimming pool will be open from 10 to 11:30 a. m. each weekday for free swimming. The pool will be open again from 1 to 5 p. m. daily and from 6:30 to 8 p. m. on weekdays.

On Saturday the pool will be open only from 1 to 5 p. m. The morning hours will be used for cleaning the pool, Hastie said.

Sunday Schedule

Both playground and pool will be open from 1 to 5 p. m. on Sundays. Instruction in swimming will be given every weekday morning as will instruction in playground activities and athletic games.

Anyone wishing to sign up for swimming lessons should do so this week, Hastie said. Classes will be held for beginners, intermediates, advanced and in junior and senior lifesaving practice.

Classes for adults will be held on weekday nights, the director announced. Registration for these classes should also be made this week.

Picnic areas at the playground are always available, Hastie said. All organizations wishing to schedule use of the grounds for picnics may do so simply by notifying Hastie or by leaving information at the cashier's desk at the playground.

Arrangements for organization picnics must be made, however, in advance, so that space may be reserved for these purposes.

Easton Judge Rules Against Fired Teacher

BANGOR — A former Roseto school teacher, fired last year by the Bangor Area Joint School Board because he was convicted of making book, lost his day in court yesterday.

Judge Carleton T. Woodring dismissed an appeal from the board's action filed by the teacher, Joseph Trigiani. Judge Woodring ruled that "bookmaking and pool selling" constitute "immoral conduct," the grounds upon which the board made its dismissal move.

Trigiani was convicted by a jury appeal, that his actions were not immoral and could not be used as basis for dismissal. He also alleged that the joint board had been improperly set up at the time of its decision to fire him.

Judge Woodring ruled that there was "exact compliance" with all statutes in the formation of the jointure. He also said the Trigiani had been given "every opportunity to defend his tenure."

Trigiani was convicted by a jury in 1953 of bookmaking and selling pools. He was fined $200, ordered to pay costs of prosecution and placed on probation for six months.

Blakeslee Soldier Awarded Medal For D-Day Invasion

BLAKESLEE—The U. S. Army has awarded Glenmore B. Hayes a Bronze Star medal for heroism in action dating back more than 11 years.

Hayes took part in the D-Day invasion of the Normandy coast of France during the critical days of World War Two. He hasn't given the campaign a great deal of thought in recent years, preferring like most of the participants to forget about the bloody battles that took place.

Recently, however, the Defense Department has given him reason to recall the war years. Last Saturday, he received the Bronze Star medal accompanied by a letter and the following citation:

"For exemplary conduct in ground combat against the armed enemy on or about June 6, 1944 in the European Theater of Operations while assigned as a private in the 12th Infantry Regiment, Fourth Division."

Hayes isn't quite sure why he was cited for the medal. He previously was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in action a few days after D-Day. He spent some time in overseas and continental hospitals before being separated from the service in 1945. Hayes has been postmaster in Blakeslee for the last five years.

TRADITION has it that "June is the month of brides". There were eight marriage license applications on file at the office of James Gould, county prothonotary and clerk of courts yesterday to prove it.

Some of the eight license applications were made on Saturday; others were filled out yesterday. Couples applying for licenses were these:

Wilmer M. Metzgar, Tannersville, and Elizabeth J. Smiley, East Stroudsburg RD3; James F. Kresge and Elva Jane Pyffer, both of Stroudsburg; Wayne Ernest Saxton, Granville Summit, Pa. and Ada Mae Frailey, Stroudsburg RD 3; Romain F. Kauffman, Stroudsburg and Elizabeth V. Price, East Stroudsburg RD 3.

Also John A. Smeltz, East Stroudsburg and Vivian Ruth Miller, Marshalls Creek; Marvin J. Getz, Nazareth RD 2 and Clara-belle M. Warner, Stroudsburg; Robert Brown Bates, Bethesda, Md. and Patricia Anne Miller, East Stroudsburg; Walter E. Snyder, Phillipsburg, N. J. and Sally S. Hunter, Easton RD 1.

Those who will graduate include: Jeanne M. Wile, Cresco, diploma in nursing. Lee S. Kistler, 217 S. Green St., East Stroudsburg, bachelor of science in economics. Catherine G. Hartman, 321 Normal St., East Stroudsburg, bachelor of science in nursing.

John H. Frederick, 595 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg doctor of medicine. Lois E. LaBarre, 30 Temple St., East Stroudsburg, diploma in nursing.

Stroudsburg Pool Opens Next Monday

THE STROUDSBURG swimming pool will open June 20 with playground operations in full swing.

Playground committee consisting of Samuel Lee, chairman; Samuel S. Everitt and Daniel G. Warner, representing Stroudsburg Council, have completed all arrangements for this year's program for young people, including naming of personnel.

Last post on the playground staff was filled a few days ago. Joseph DeRenzi, 812 Thomas St., was hired to fill a post on the pool staff.

Democratic Club Meets Tonight

THE POCONO Mountains Democratic Club will meet tonight at 8 in the Hoffman House, Pocono Pines.

The program will include an address by a guest speaker, reading and adoption of the bylaws and a discussion of entertainment for coming meetings.

Mr. DeRenzi has been certified by the American Red Cross water safety program as an instructor.

We have at least one design in good taste to fit every preference, every budget and every cemetery situation on hand.

Representation Of Private Clients By Federal Officials Open To Questioning

A great many public officials also are lawyers. Most of them, from city councilmen to U.S. Senators, practice law on the side, despite their official jobs.

When they choose their cases carefully it probably doesn't matter much.

But when they accept cases and clients which obviously come to them only because of their official connections, they're asking for trouble.

At the best, these situations have the earmarks of influence peddling. At the worst, they have almost the stench of bribery.

Off and on, there have been efforts to curb the worst of these abuses.

In Washington, a bill is going before Congress to prevent the U.S. Commissioners for the District of Columbia from practicing any law on the side.

This follows disclosure that the Commissioner, as a private attorney, billed 11 Spanish musicians $9900 for routine legal services he performed in an effort to keep them in the country.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, New York Republican, who is introducing the bill, said: "This representation of private clients before a Federal Government agency by an official of the Federal courts raises serious questions of propriety."

That's a cautious understatement. In the legal profession, ethics is the specific and lawful responsibility of the bar associations.

The whole machinery of American justice is in the hands of lawyers. Bar groups ought to make sure—doubly sure—that these always are clean hands.

Sound Economic Conditions Indicate Heaviest Vacation Time Spending Spree

That our nation is enjoying a sound economy is apparent in the reports of various governmental departments indicating a considerable increase both in employment and in personal incomes.

Last month the number of citizens gainfully employed rose by a million to set a new record and unemployment declined in satisfactory proportions.

When Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks told a news conference that all economic factors reaffirmed the prediction that 1955 will be a record year, he indicated that there were no signs of any recession.

Surely if the present somewhat precarious peace in the automotive and steel industries during their period of wage conferences can continue through successful agreements, there is every reason to have full faith in such a statement.

In the matter of personal income, it is notable that the increases thus far this year have been chiefly for the benefit of the wage and salary earners, but it is especially interesting to see how this was accomplished.

During March, the increases came from high pay rates and longer hours, while in April it resulted from higher pay rates plus a material increase in employment.

It is quite possible, then, that the economy is passing from that phase where industry extended the hours of those already employed to that wherein primary emphasis will be on increased employment.

In the main, the situation is a favorable one as we come into the summer season, and one reflected in the greatest vacation spending of all time.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Morganthau Diary Contains Verbatim Report On Dealings With Harry White

The Henry Morganthau, Jr., diaries will undoubtedly prove to be a gold mine of information for the historian of the future, for the Secretary of the Treasury recorded everything, every conference, every telephone conversation. How it was done, I do not know.

Morganthau testified before the Eastland Committee as follows:

"Mr. Sourwine. The diary is, then, an actual verbatim transcript, in large part, of what took place in your office while you were Secretary of the Treasury?"

"Mr. Morganthau. Almost entirely."

"Mr. Sourwine. Almost everything that took place was transcribed?"

"Mr. Morganthau. I don't believe that I would say everything, to the best of my knowledge."

"Mr. Sourwine. And then important documents, letters, and memoranda that came along were also placed in the diary; is that right?"

"Mr. Morganthau. Everything, unless it was of a strictly personal nature between the President and myself."

The material has remained un-

Morganthau did not know White when he came into the Treasury in the summer of 1934. There is no testimony explaining White's employment which may have been routine. However, on April 23, 1935, there is a telephone conversation between Morganthau and Under Secretary William Phillips of the State Department which gives the impression that White, who was at The Hague on a Treasury mission, was getting into the hair of the diplomats and they needed a rectification of his status.

By April 25, 1938, Harry Dexter White had become a big shot in the Treasury and was included in the "9-30 group," which represented the top personnel of the Treasury who met with Morganthau every morning to discuss the day's work. Morganthau's announcement on that occasion was:

"I thought you people would be interested to know that I've invited Harry White to become a regular member of the 9-30 staff."

Nobody objected.

White is immediately found to be engaged in extremely important work, particularly influencing the most important "Executive Committee on Commercial Policy," which consisted of:

"State: Mr. Grady, Chairman, Mr. Fels, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. Delme, Mr. Saugstad, Mr. Alger Hiss, Mr. Carr. Treasury: Mr. Glasser, Agriculture: Mr. Wheeler, Commerce: Mr. Rawls, Mr. Domeratzky, Mr. Wood. Labor: Mr. Lubin. Tariff Commission: Mr. Stevens, Mr. Ryder, Mr. Smith. Maritime Commission: Mr. Truitt. Army and Navy Munitions Board: Major Sadler, Lieutenant Lowrie."

On December 8, 1941, according to Book 470 of the diaries, the day the United States went to war with Japan, Henry Morganthau, Jr., announced that he was going to give Harry Dexter White the status of an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury without official status, in charge of all the foreign relations of the Treasury. None of the top personnel of the Treasury objected, with the exception of H. Merle Cochran, who had been borrowed from the State Department and who quit the Treasury on account of White's appointment. Cochran is now Deputy Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund. This is what Morganthau explained to his associates:

"... in order to have the least friction, as far as I am concerned, and to make life easier for me and at the same time if it is easier for me it's better for the Treasury. I want to give Harry White the status of an Assistant Secretary. I can't make him an Assistant Secretary. I want to give him the status just as though he were and he will be in charge of all foreign affairs for me. See?"

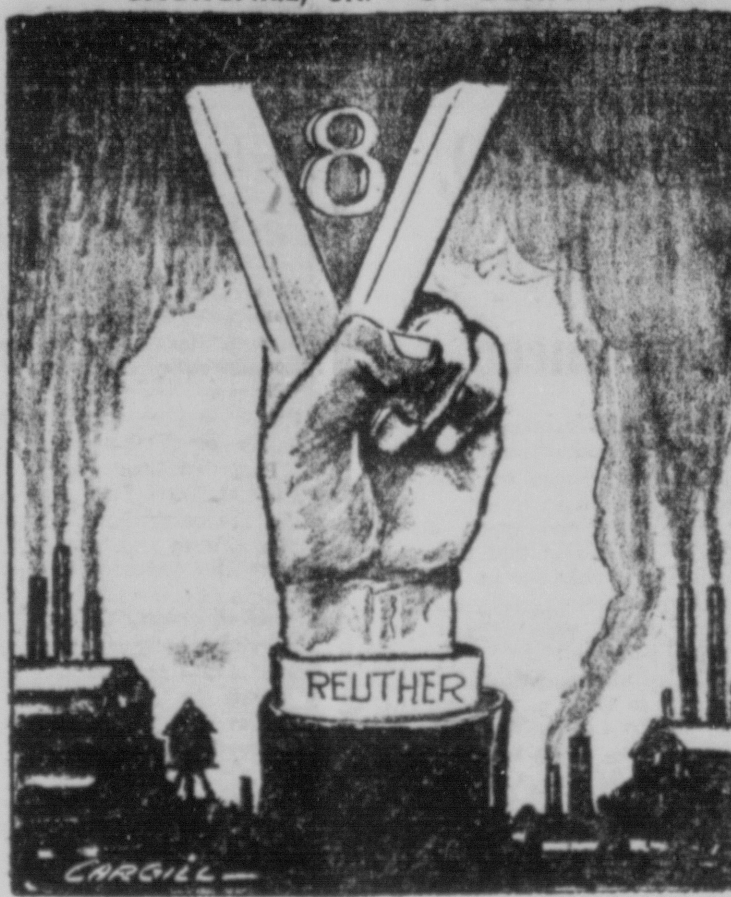

One of the most significant facts in this situation is that White was placed in charge of the China policy of the Treasury which involved operations that wrecked the currency of that country and produced an inflation that ended in a complete collapse of its economy, weakening the position of the Government and leading to the Communist Revolution.

It will be interesting to see what other revelations come out of the Morganthau diaries through the Eastland Committee.

River he would prove that there is a way to get from one side of Manhattan to the other in modern traffic . . . We hear several fellows got expelled from the clubhouse at a New York track last week . . . Seems they dared to enter the clubhouse with their shirts buttoned and with coats on . . . Elmer Twitchell says, "I presume that when I buy a new auto I will find the guaranteed wage tied on as an extra together with the stop lights and the windshield wiper." . . . Things are so good with the worker in the auto business under the new agreements that it would not be surprising to hear a Detroit toiler say, "I wish they would lay me off so I could live it up." . . . The stock market rose on the motor industry agreement despite the fact it will cost business more money to operate . . . Probably the theory is that the economic picture is so cockeyed that even grugginess is good for the long pull.

Compound Interest Piles Up In Arithmetic Books

This is what we've been heeding—more detailed, down-to-earth information about the saving process.

When a person edges into the fifties he is apt to begin thinking seriously, if he never did before, about laying a little something aside for his old age. And the more he inquires around about the best ways to go at it, the more he realizes what a little something it is likely to be.

Compound interest seems to pile up much more impressively for the disinterested reader of an eighth-grade arithmetic book than for the panicky middle-aged who is playing for keeps, with not very much to lose.

It takes an awful lot of money, at 3 per cent, to keep a budding gaffer in anything like the style to which the income from his brain and muscles has accustomed him. By the time the average fellow has sense enough to save up for a comfortable old age he no longer has enough time.

What he really needs is a good, safe investment that will double his capital every 10 days. These are hard to come by.

So if there is anything about the saving process that isn't already pretty well understood, a very earnest effort should be made to bring it to light. On the double.

It is encouraging, therefore, to know that Dr. Raymond W. Goldsmith, one of the country's leading income and wealth analysts, has been looking into the matter. Aided by a staff of economists and statisticians, he has completed the most comprehensive study of the saving process ever made.

To be sure, the findings made public up to date are not overly exciting. They show, for instance, that "saving depends on a number of known factors (and some unknown ones), the most important of which is income."

That figures. So does the finding that a family in the income bracket where two-thirds of the families are today accounts for "only one-fifth or one-fourth as much saving as a family with the same purchasing power in its grandparents' time."

Old grandpop really knew how to salt it away, all right—to hear him tell. But most of it went down the drain in the big depression. What a great many people would like to know in regard to the saving process is a simple, sure-fire formula for piling up a king-size drawing account in about 10 years, from a standing start.

So far nothing of this kind has turned up in Dr. Goldsmith's findings. But he has a raft of data there that he wants to kick around for a while longer and it may be that he'll come up with something sensational yet.

Meanwhile, let's save what we can by turning out the upstairs lights when nobody's up there—and register for Bank Night every Tuesday.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

In his "The Ghost Towns of California," a boon to Americana collectors, Remi Nadeau tells of one moldering desert camp where the octogenarian postmaster maintained stoutly that the ghost of Pegleg Gertie, one of the painted ladies of yesteryear, still paraded the streets when the moon was full. Seeking corroboration, Nadeau collared a whiskered old desert rat, and asked, "Have you, too, seen the ghost of Pegleg Gertie?"

"Reckon I never seen the ghost," boasted the desert rat, "but dang bust it, I seed everything else!"

The mother of an eight-year-old dog lover pointed out impatiently, "I've told you, Virginia, that a city apartment is no place for a dog. Now your poodle Felice has gone and had a litter of puppies."

"I'm sorry, Mom," said Virginia philosophically. "But if she does it again, we can always send Papa back into the Army."

Reds Want China Admitted, Air Base Breakup From West

Washington, June 14 — Three fateful Kremlin objectives are the primary reason for that series of foreign ministers strategy conferences which are preceding the Big Four "summit meeting" next month.

These key Soviet aims are: The dismantling of strategic airbases which the Reds consider of direct menace to them, particularly those in Turkey which directly peril Russia's main oil centers. In exchange for giving up these threatening airbases, Moscow will offer to accept specific cuts in military forces and armament production, including atomic weapons.

Admittance of Red China to the United Nations, in return for formal non-aggression commitments; in effect, to officially accept a "two world" or "sphere of influence" system. Remove West Germany from active participation in the NATO alliance, by offering to unify Germany in exchange for a long-term neutrality pact.

Detailed reports from a number of authoritative sources have definitely established that these three far-reaching goals are the crux of current Kremlin policy.

This basic policy is dominating all the preparatory conferences and maneuvers leading up to the historic "summit meeting" next month. This Red policy is what is behind Secretary Dulles' talks with the other foreign ministers in New York this week, in San Francisco next week at the celebration of the United Nations' tenth anniversary, and in Europe next month prior to the "summit" parley.

One of the most fruitful sources of information on Kremlin strategy and plans was the Khurshev-Bulgarian visit to Yugoslavia.

On several highly convoluted occasions, Khurshev was astonishingly talkative. The Communist Party czar indulged in a lot of boasting, apparently to impress his hosts, but he was also very revealing. So much so that Bulgainin and other top members of the party were openly distressed and tried to cover up.

Khurshev's drunken and bungling antics were so extraordinary that conjectures are now rife among Soviet experts that "he won't be around long."

Notes: A Navy Intelligence report says ships flying the British flag made "1,400 calls" at Red China ports in 1954, the largest number since the end of the Korean war. The King and Queen of Greece will go to Yugoslavia in September, to return a visit of Marshal Tito.

Mowing Flush Bars For Birds

—by H. G. Heller

The mowing season on Monroe county farms, unfortunately, is a period when many adult and young ring-neck pheasants are killed by mowing operations.

Pheasants like to nest in hay fields. Because mowing takes place in these natural hatching areas at the time the pheasant nesting is at its peak many pheasant hens and their prospective broods are lost.

This recalls that years ago, when pheasants were becoming established over much of their present range in Pennsylvania, many farmers attached a flushing bar to their horse-drawn mowing machine. The bar, dragging chains or weighted cables, extended to the side being cut and scared off incubating hens before the blade passed over the nest. Not only did the device save many of the hens, but nests thus discovered were also protected when humane farmers left "islands" of cover, around them.

When the tractor came into wide use the flushing bar, attached to the horse-drawn machine, was found to be ineffective because of the tractor's greater speed. A broody hen had too little time to fly away ahead of the cutter bar.

Recent experiments show that a modified flushing bar is still effective when attached to the front of the tractor which is well ahead of the mowing bar. The device has even been hinged to allow the farmer to pass through gates without detaching it.

In several states, studies aimed at learning the extent of pheasant mortality showed tractor mowers without flushing bars destroyed 35% to 60% of the hens nesting in hay fields. When flushing bars with chains, or cables with weights, were used only about 15% of the hens were destroyed or crippled.

Here again the teamwork of sportsmen and farmers can combine to save many birds. The agriculturist cannot be criticized for the loss of wildlife; he would far rather prevent it if he could, without great expense and loss of labor time. But because wildlife is a by-product of farming it is only of incidental importance to him economically. However, pheasants are necessary to good bird hunting in many areas. That is why sportsmen's organizations in some states are again providing flushing bars for farmers in their locality. This is a program that assures better bird shooting and also provides an opportunity for sportsmen to show their interest in game management and in establishing a better farmer-sportsman relationship.

Young People Selected For U.N. Pilgrimage

EFFORT—Gloria Martha Durkop and Lee Edkin Hoffman are two of a group of young people chosen from this area to visit the United Nations this summer. This project, known as the "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth," is sponsored by the world Youth Committee of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, according to Floyd U. Shupp, committee chairman.

This is the sixth consecutive year of these pilgrimages to New York. They have attained such broad scope and popularity that nearly six hundred boys and girls will be making the journey this summer to New York City. The young delegates are 16 or 17 years of age and expect to be Juniors or Seniors in high school this fall. They come from every province of Canada and all parts of the United States.

To accommodate this large number of young people the pilgrimage has been divided into six periods of six days each in New York City.

Miss Durkop and Mr. Hoffman will take part in the fourth period, beginning in New York City on July 3. Miss Durkop is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Durkop of Kresgeville and attends Polk Township High School. Mr. Hoffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hoffman of Broadheads-ville, and attends Chestnut Hill High School.

Basin For Selection

The delegates usually are chosen from the community at large, selected on the basis of "character, leadership, scholarship, interest in civic affairs, participation in church young people's groups, interest in world affairs, and availability for making the journey." These delegates will travel to New York by automobile, accompanied by Henry Durkop and R. V. Kresge, secretary of the local unit of Odd Fellows.

In New York City, the young people will live on Times Square at the Hotel Claridge. Meals will be taken at the U. N. delegates dining room, Sloane House Y.M.C.A., the Automat, International House, Fraunces Tavern where George Washington bade farewell to his officers, and other interesting eating places. They will have a three hour boat trip around Manhattan Island, make a guided tour of Rockefeller Center, visit Radio City Music Hall, and make a trip to the Statue of Liberty.

These recreational and educational aspects of the project, however, are incidental to making a first study of the functioning of the United Nations—the real purpose of the pilgrimage. Delegates will see councils and commissions of the United Nations in action at the permanent headquarters buildings on E. 42nd St. There they will be instructed with charts and diagrams about the 60-nation U. N. and the inter-relation of its various parts and agencies.

Work Of Agencies

They will see graphic presentations of the work being done by some of the specialized agencies of the U. N., such as UNESCO, UNICEF, and WHO. They will hear speakers of the Trusteeship Council and other U. N. branches. They will view the 39-story Secretariat Building, the Conference Building, and the new Assembly Building. They will sit in council chambers with earphones over which they may tune in on any one of the five official languages, English, French, Russian, Chinese and Spanish.

They will have interviews with delegation representatives from various member countries and visit some of the national secretariats in their respective headquarters. They will mingle with U. N. personnel from all over the world as they eat at the delegates' dining room.

Another fascinating feature will be the visit to the United States Mission to the United Nations at No. 2 Park Ave. Here at the headquarters of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief of the U. S. delegates, the young people will see the part this country plays in U. N. affairs. Through these various experiences the young people will learn something of the relationship of their home town with world affairs.

U. S. Ambassador Lodge wrote that he is looking forward to meeting the delegates of this project and says, "There is no more important cause to which you could devote your energies than that of building the United Nations into an organization of constantly increasing effectiveness, so as to prevent World War III. It is undoubtedly because membership in the United Nations is so advantageous to the United States that most recent public opinion polls show that a large majority of Americans are in favor of belonging to it." This significant youth project offers the young participants a unique opportunity to grow in an understanding of their responsibilities toward world relationships.

From now on you'll judge Octane in a new way

New, Ultraformed Amoco-Gas shows important difference between Laboratory Octane and Road Octane

One place to measure octane is in the laboratory. This is the kind of octane rating you always hear about. Most gasolines achieve their high lab octane rating by adding lead. But no amount of refining or super-refining matters once you add lead. That's because lead leaves harmful deposits in your car's engine—deposits that trap and choke off octane power!

STANDARD ONE-CYLINDER LABORATORY TEST ENGINE

This universal "Octane Rating" engine accurately determines the octane rating of every gas—in the laboratory. It does not measure the harmful effects of lead deposits in an automobile engine.

It tells only half of octane story

THE REAL TEST ENGINE IS IN YOUR CAR ON THE ROAD!

You can only measure the usable octane value of any gas in an automobile engine in use. Here leaded gas can cause metallic deposits that waste octane. All the octane value of new no-lead Amoco-Gas is usable road octane—none is wasted. You get an Octane Bonus on the road.

Your car engine tells whole story

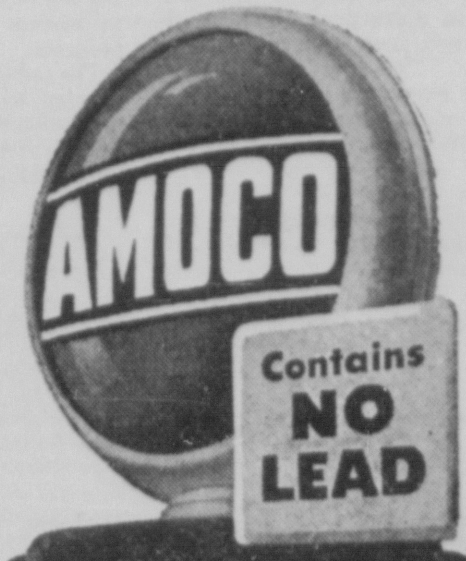

The important place to judge octane is on the road. Road octane is the octane strength that actually goes to turn your car's wheels. If you drive you'll find it is the only kind of octane that's worth measuring—or buying!

New, Ultraformed Amoco-Gas gives you an Octane BONUS on the road —no octane power lost fighting lead deposits

New, Ultraformed Amoco-Gas is the brilliant achievement of years of Amoco research. It is a new and different kind of gas—the one gas that has discovered how to attain high octane without adding lead. It is all gas—it can all burn. No lead deposits are left in the engine to choke off octane power. You get more usable octane on the road where it counts—an exclusive Octane Bonus yours only in the new white Amoco-Gas! Try it—it's wonderful!

The white gas with the Octane BONUS!

Bonus Mileage—because it contains no lead!

Serving on the committee with her are Mrs. Wilfred Wagner, Mrs. Horace Brewer and Mrs. Leon Parcel. The menu will include roast beef and meat loaf and other dishes, followed by ice cream and strawberries, it was stated.

Son for Heeters

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Heeter on Friday at the General Hospital. The baby was almost born on his parents' first wedding anniversary which they celebrated June 12. It has been named David Charles. The Heeters live at East Stroudsburg RD 2.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

SO YOU clubwomen thought you were going to take it easy this summer. From the looks of the committees being appointed and the projects being planned the summertime is going to be busier than the winter, with the exception of no meetings to go to.

The Woman's Club has really broken down the committees to bite-size. Well almost. I still think the chairman of United Nations, specialized agencies and international understanding has a bit of a mouthful.

But if every chairman of every subcommittee keeps herself and her club informed on developments in her field, the Woman's Club will be able to grant Ph. D. degrees come next Spring. Actually, each committee will function as much or as little as its chairman deems necessary.

But even at a minimum, it's a tremendous educational force. As a matter of fact with the co-ordinated and comprehensive programs of the PTA groups, the churchwomen's organizations and the clubs of this community, all of them based on considerable study, I'm willing to pit our local women against most college students in breadth of understanding.

Of course, you'd have to let me pick the particular women—but I could, never fear.

Dinner Party For Graduates Of Bushkill

Bushkill—An informal dinner party was held in honor of the sixth grade graduates of the Bushkill School.

Guests included the graduates, Susan Barr, Bruce Butz, Melva Keiper, Marlys Messerle, Roseann Messerle, Stephen Schoonover, and James VanWhy, also members of their families, school directors and their wives and the teachers, Mrs. Edna Palmer and Miss Joan Stecher.

Bouquets of flowers arranged by Mrs. Robert B. Irwin formed the decor of both the luncheon and the assembly room. On behalf of the sixth grade students Marlys Messerle presented Miss Stecher with a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Following the buffet, the group met in the assembly room where the class presented their program of songs and recitations. Raymond Steele, President of the Board of School Directors addressed the graduates and presented the diplomas. Mrs. William Laubner, Mrs. Wilford Moore and Mrs. B. H. Bensley assisted the teachers with the function.

Card Parties On Ann Logan Calendar

The Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital last night closed its year's meeting with a supper at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church with 23 members present. However several summer projects have been planned.

The first is a card party to be held at Camp Tannin, above Bushkill, on Tuesday, June 28. Members who wish to go up for luncheon before the party may make reservations with Mr. Sperling by the previous Saturday. Transportation may be arranged by calling Mrs. Horace Butler, 2993, Stroudsburg, between 8 and 9 a.m.

The second summer card party will be held Tuesday, August 30, at Pocono Manor Inn. Mrs. Nelson Westbrook and Mrs. Robert Miller are in charge.

ALTHOUGH, according to recent reports, the "Cavalier Caravan" is to receive more funds, I believe it time to do a little serious talking about the venture. The drive for money is being made in an effort to honor the East Stroudsburg High baseball team, winner of the District 11 Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association diamond championship. Plans call for the Cavaliers to meet the Brooklyn Dodgers and then watch the Bums play the New York Giants, on Thursday, June 30.

The manner in which the people of the area, both East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg, got behind the idea is truly heart warming. When it was first decided to take the kids to a major league ball game, it was believed that if we cut ends here and there that the trip could be made possible with $200. The "Cavalier Caravan," as of yesterday, reached $277.60, and the trip is still 16 days away. The manner in which the money is rolling in proves the popularity of scholastic sports in this region.

Pat Rinker, Carol Leitner, Cynthia Middaugh and Ruth Detrick, all cheerleaders at East Stroudsburg High, yesterday turned in a truly terrific job as they collected an even $50 for the trip. The girls, all seniors next year except Ruth, who will be a junior, launched their drive at noon in East Stroudsburg, and arrived at The Daily Record at 1:30 p.m. with their $50. Most of the money came from merchants in East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg. The girls made several stops at homes in both boroughs too. The response was outstanding.

Frank Lanterman also forwarded a check for $5 yesterday and Al Sterner, well known athletic official, presented two dollars to the drive. This means that a grand total of $57 was donated to the "Cavalier Caravan" in one day, assuring the kids of a good time. Those who contributed so eagerly to the fund are to be gratefully thanked. I know the youngsters on the team that defeated the best baseball club in District 11 are happy and so are those adults who have followed the Cavaliers so closely during the recent campaign.

East Stroudsburg not only won a lot of baseball games, but a host of friends during the course of the season. The spirit and ability shown by the charges of Coach Jack Kist were well received throughout Monroe County and support for the planned trip is coming from all sections of the county. The support being shown is proof that area residents are certainly proud of the job turned in by the diamond Cavaliers.

It's impossible to thank everyone who has assisted with this drive, but this scribe is pleased beyond words with the manner in which everybody has cooperated. Residents of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg have worked hand in hand to raise the necessary funds, proving once again that the hatred among people of the two boroughs is limited to those who don't know any better. The real rivalry is on the athletic field. Once a champion is crowned residents of both localities are willing to recognize the fact.

Adults and children alike put their shoulder to the wheel in this venture to make it a success. The sad part about the entire affair is the fact that many of those who worked hardest will never be recognized. But, they may feel well satisfied with the fact that the drive was a success and that the youngsters will see the Dodgers and Giants in action on June 30, providing the weatherman decides to cooperate. Their work certainly wasn't in vain. This column is truly thankful to those individuals who made the trip possible.

The fact that Saylorburg's baseball team gave $10 to the "Cavalier Caravan," is proof that the well founded organization of encouraging high school baseball in this area. Right now high school baseball is at high tide, in both East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg, and it's our duty to keep the interest in the spring sport at its current high mark. The Cavaliers will also be honored at a dinner by the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club this month.

Ronson Earns Nod Over Worthington Mower

Two Walks Fatal In Final Frame

RONSON ran its winning streak to two straight games in the Stroudsburg-Barrett Babe Ruth League last night with a thrilling 5-4 verdict over Worthington Mower at Gordon Giffels Field.

The loss evened Worthington Mower's record at one victory and a single defeat to date.

Ronson opened the scoring in the first inning when Shick was safe on an error by Barry Tretheway and came home on a double by Victor Aiygin. Ronson evened things in the second when Evan Reese walked, stole second on a passed ball and tallied on Snyder's single.

Worthington came up with another run in the fifth when Tretheway singled, stole second and third and raced home on a wild throw to third by Herman. Ronson went into a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the same frame when Jim Girard singled and two outs later Shick and Aiygin singled to plate both Girard and Shick.

The Worthington club bounced back with two counters in the top of the sixth when Martin reached first on a perfect bunt and went to second on a single by Reusswig. Martin moved over to third on a wild throw into center field and later scored on a passed ball. Reusswig also crossed the plate on another passed ball.

Ronson bounded back to win the game on a pair of runs in the home half of the sixth. Herman, Paul Frailey and Bush singled to load the bases and Snyder issued two straight walks to admit the deciding runs.

Two games are on the agenda tonight. Monroe Silk and Line Material will clash at Giffels Field at 6:15 p.m., while International Boller Works and Barrett battle on the Barrett High School field at the same time.

Stroudsburg members of the IBW will be picked up from in front of the YMCA at 4:30 p.m., while East Stroudsburg players will depart from East Stroudsburg Junior High School at the same time.

Logart Wins Split Verdict

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Isaac Logart of Cuba bolo-punched his way to a split 10-round decision over Ludwig Lightburn of British Honduras at St. Nicholas Arena tonight. The victory was Logart's second over Lightburn in five weeks. Logart weight 144, Lightburn 138½.

Logart started like a whirling dervish but finished like a snail with the result that the decision was far from popular with the crowd of 1,700. The spectators jeered for almost two minutes.

Referee Barney Felix gave it to Logart 5-4 with one round even. Judge Leo Birnbaum called it even in rounds and 5-4 for Logart on points—the system used in New York state to break deadlocks. Judge Artie Aldala had it 5-4-1 for Lightburn. The Associated Press card also had Lightburn the winner 5-4-1.

There couldn't have been much argument if this had been called a draw.

Strouds To Hold Special Drill

MANAGER Frank Radler has called a practice session for the Strouds, pace setter in the Bi-State League, at East Stroudsburg Playground today at 6:30 p.m.

The Strouds are scheduled to collide with Roseto in one of the biggest games of the season at Gordon Giffels Field tomorrow, at 6:30 p.m.

Three Monroe County Kennels Add To List Of Winnings At Lehigh Valley Match In Easton

EASTON—Mrs. Allen Hoffner, Saylorburg, led three other Monroe County dog owners to some of the loftiest heights in the Lehigh Valley Match Show held here on Sunday afternoon.

Hoffner's Whirlwind, black cocker spaniel, was judged best puppy in the match and also placed first in the sporting group puppies and won the three-to-six month class for females.

Hoffner's Tropical Storm was first in the three-to-six-month class for male cockers, while Hoffner's Tornado was second in the same class.

Another Hoffner cocker, Future Paymaster, won six points toward his championship on Sunday at Akron, O. He was handled by George Young.

Mrs. Claire Specht's Jonaire Kennels, located near Mount Pocono, also did its share of winning.

Jonaire Pocono Top Hat, a leading Miniature Schnauzer, won the three-to-six month puppy class and went on to win in the puppy terrier group. Jonaire Pocono Blue Diamond was first in open competition and first in adult terrier group.

Jonaire Kennels won a total of seven trophies at the match.

The Jonaire interests also finished another champion at Batavia, N. Y., on Sunday: when Jonaire Pocono High Honor won under the handling of Tom Gannon.

Astolat Kennels, owned by Mrs. Constance Hubbard and located in Effort, also came up with several victories. Astolat Emblems Folly, was first in the three-to-six-month class for female Shetland Sheep Dogs. Astolat Golden Emblem was first in the same class for males, then went on to win best Shetland Sheep Dog puppy in match and first in the puppy working group.

Astolat Traveler's Paradise was first in the nine-to-12-month female class and Astolat Emblem of Hope was first in the open female class. Sun Brier Favorite of Astolat was first in the open class for males and second in the adult working group.

Astolat Kennels was represented in the parade of champions by Frigate Emblem of Astolat, veteran campaigner who has more best of breed, 98 in number, than any other Shetland Sheep Dog in the United States. Frigate Emblem won his most recent prize at Greenwich, Conn.

Jonaire Kennels was represented in the parade of champions by Ch. Benrock Buckaroo and his two sons. Benrock Buckaroo has sired 14 champions.

Weitzel Ties Williams In State Open

HERSHEY, June 13 (AP)—Johnny Weitzel, Hershey Country Club professional, dramatically came from way behind today to throw the 39th annual Pennsylvania Open Golf championship into a tie-breaking playoff tomorrow.

Henry Williams Jr., Kutztown, the defending titlist, stroked a smooth 145 over the 36-hole course and was just about to count up the $1,000 first prize money.

But Weitzel, down five strokes to Williams at one point, caught fire in the stretch run to tack up an even par closing round of 73 and match Williams' 145 total.

Stan Dudas, Shawnee-on-Deleware, carded an 80-72, for a 152, while Harry Obitz, head pro at Shawnee, withdrew after firing a 77 in the opening round. Dick Farley also quit after registering an 81 in the first round.

Little Leagues List Date For Polio Day

BOTH STROUDSBURG and East Stroudsburg Little League will celebrate National Polio Day on Wednesday, June 22, it was revealed last night in a joint statement by Jack Mullins, president of the Stroudsburg league, and Dr. Evan C. Reese, head of the East Stroudsburg circuit.

National Polio Day is being celebrated by Little Leagues throughout the nation today, but Reese and Mullins thought that a delay of one week would be more beneficial in raising money.

All proceeds from the one baseball game in each circuit will be turned over to the National Polio Foundation.

National Bank Tops Diner In Stroudsburg Little League

Five Runs In Second Turn Tide

FIVE RUNS in the second inning was the turning point in last night's Stroudsburg Little League baseball game and enabled First Stroudsburg National Bank to gain a 10-3 verdict over Colonial Diner.

The victory enabled the Bankers to even their record at one victory and a single defeat, while the loss was the second in two outings for the Dinermen.

National Bank missed scoring only in the fifth inning, but rolled up the victory count in the first four frames to take all doubt out of the contest.

A pair of home runs by Frailley paved the Bankers to victory, as they picked up two tallies in the first, five in the second, two more in the third and a singleton in the fourth frame.

Colonial Diner carded one run in the second and two in the top of the sixth and final frame, but the late surge failed to turn the tide of battle.

The Dinermen brought about such of their trouble by committing six errors, while the winning contingent booted only three plays in the field.

National Bank batted eight hits, while the Dinermen were held to four.

Today's schedule calls for Veterans of Foreign Wars and Stroudsburg Security Trust to clash on the circuit's official field, at 6:30 p. m.

Musial Leads Star Poll

CHICAGO, June 13 (P)—Stan Musial, 34, is in a familiar role in the All-Star baseball poll today. He took the National League first base lead from Ted Kluszewski by 352 votes.

Musial, the starting National League rightfielder in last year's Interleague game in Cleveland, has polled 2,852 votes in the balloting by the nation's baseball fans to determine the starting lineups of the American and National League teams in the July 12 All Star Game in Milwaukee County Stadium.

The nationwide balloting, which opened last Friday, will end at midnight July 1. It is being directed by the Chicago Tribune and 761 newspaper, radio and TV outlets.

In the American League balloting Bobby Avila, Cleveland Indians' second baseman from Vera Cruz, Mexico, passed his rival, Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox. Avila today had 2,647 votes to 2,432 for Fox.

Track Coach Switches Jobs

LINCOLN, Neb., June 13 (P)—Frank A. Seivage, 33, old track coach at Gerington University, was named new track coach at the University of Nebraska today.

He succeeds Jerry Lee, who resigned recently after one year on the job to return to Grand Island High School as coach and athletic director.

Red Demon, Von Wallick To Present Leading Australian Tag Team To Local Wrestling Fans

RED DEMON and Fritz Von Wallick, one of the Australian Tag Wrestling teams scheduled to make an appearance at Memorial Stadium on Friday, is rated among the best in the business and in many sectors of the country were recently recognized as the champions.

Von Wallick, known as the Nazi Storm Trooper in some circles, teamed with the Red Demon to defeat Regie Lisowski and Art Nelson, the Australian Tag champions, but the champions refused to give up their trophy.

In a return bout Lisowski and Nelson won, making them official champions once again.

Von Wallick is of the villain type and forms one of the toughest teams in the business, as the Red Demon is also known for his rough tactics. Von Wallick and the Demon are scheduled to oppose Ivan Kirilenko and Ernie Natale.

Kirilenko maintains that he is an escapee from behind the Iron Curtain, having fled from the ranks of the Czechoslovakian Army. Natale is an Italian native who came to the United States at 14 and was educated in New York schools.

"Soldier" Barry, who tangles with Fritz Ziegfried in one of the headline matches, to be settled on a two-out-of-three-falls basis, operates a night club in the New York area. He once claimed the wrestling championship of the U. S. Army.

Ziegfried is another of the villain type, giving the Nazi salute prior to the opening of every match.

Jim Stefano, who meets Lew Abrams in a 20-minute time limit bout, is from Bethlehem. Abrams is a former professional boxer.

Tickets are now on sale for the event. They may be purchased at Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store, Stroud Manor, Hobby Shop and from any member of the Variety "E" Club, sponsoring unit. They also may be obtained by contacting WVO or The Daily Record.

Ringside seats are selling for $2, while reserved seats are priced at $1.50. General admission tickets are selling for one dollar.

All profits from Friday's show, slated to begin at 8:30 p. m., will go toward paying off the remaining debt on the lighting system at Memorial Park.

In case of rain Friday night, the show will go on at the same time Saturday.

Lumbermen Triumph Over National Bank

CRAMER LUMBER continued its unbeaten ways in the East Stroudsburg Little League last night with a 4-1 verdict over East Stroudsburg National Bank. The win was the sixth without a loss for the Lumbermen.

The Lumbermen opened hostilities with a single run in the first,

John Hindman and N. Fish combined to halt the Bankers with two hits, while the Lumbermen accounted for four safeties off Lambert.

The Bankers helped to bring about their own downfall with four errors. Cramer's crew played perfect ball in the field.

Today's schedule calls for Heller-Lloyd-Howell to oppose the Methodists on the same field, at 6:30 p. m.

Furgol To Defend Title

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13 (P)—Lame-armed Ed Furgol flew in today to prepare for defense of his National Open golf championship and unloaded three interesting observations.

He said: Sam Snead is the player to beat for the title because "he's got the strength to get out of the rough."

The Olympic Lake course, site of the tournament starting Thursday, is at least 20 per cent easier than Baltusrol where he won last year and the winner should break 280.

Only one National Open has been won by less than that score—Ben Hogan's record 276 at Riviera in 1948.

Don't write Furgol's golfing obituary yet.

Twin City Trips Coates For 10th Straight Softball Nod

TWIN CITY TV continued to show its power in the Monroe County Softball League last night with a 4-2 decision over Coates Board and Paper Carton Co. at Stroudsburg Playground.

The win was the 10th without a loss for Twin City. The Coates contingent now owns a mark of three victories and seven setbacks.

Twin City was forced to bat from behind to grab last night's verdict, after Coates came up with a single run in the first frame.

Navy has won the "big row" three straight years and the 64-year-old dean of crew coaches is aiming to equal the record for four in a row hung up by Cornell from 1909 to 1912.

Although Navy has been beaten in two regattas this year, the sweepstakes of the Severn are rated among the contenders.

Undeclared Pennsylvania, which cracked Navy's record streak at 31 on the Charles May 7 and then repeated in the Eastern Sprint Championships a week later on the Potomac, now is rated the favorite in the 12-gear varsity three-miler.

Major Threats Navy, Cornell, Washington, Wisconsin, Columbia and Stanford's "orphans of the lake" are the major threats to Penn's hopes of an all-winning season.

Penn is coached by Joe Burk, who rowed under Callow at the Philadelphia institution in 1932-33. 34. Cornell's Harrison (Stork) Sanford and Wisconsin's Norm Sonju all pulled for Callow at Washington.

Uhrickson has passed on Callow's teaching to Columbia's Walter Raney. Jim McMillan of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Delos (Dutch) Schoch of Princeton, all Washington graduates.

The other three coaches are California's Ky Ebricht, a disciple of the storied Hiram Conibear of Washington, as is Callow; Boston University's Jim Neworthy, who learned his rowing at American International College of Springfield, Mass., and Stanford's Lou Lindsey, a coxswain under Ebricht.

Lindsey is the volunteer unpaid tutor of the informal eager-beaver entry from Stanford.

Penn's stock rose sharply following its decisive one-length victory over Cornell on Lake Cayuga Friday. The Quakers had shown fine timing and power in the sprints but they displayed all of that plus stamina in the 2-1-3 mile journey against the Big Red.

was a second inning home run over the left field fence by losing pitcher Francis Clark.

The winning contingent bunched its five hits in scoring once in the first frame, three times in the second and once in the third to earn the verdict.

Games between Pocono Lions and Barrett Rotary, at Mountain Home, and Mount Pocono and Tobyhanna, at Tobyhanna, were rained out last night and will be played today at 6:15 p. m.

Homemaking Girls Convene At Penn State

A GROUP of 35 Future Homemaking girls are attending the FFA convention at Pennsylvania State University this week.

The girls left for the convention yesterday. In the group, also, are five teachers from the Monroe County and Bangor area.

At the convention, five girls—from Pocono and Polk Townships in Monroe and Bangor boroughs in Northampton—are slated to take part in discussion groups.

Chosen for this honor were Janet Starnor, Pocono; Shirley Griffith and Carole Anwalt, both of Polk; Maxine Ackerman and Shirley Fritz, of Bangor.

Two Monroe County teachers, Mrs. Jeanette Mitchell, Chestnut-hill and Mrs. Marian Mackes, Polk, will serve as aides and consultants in the discussion groups and demonstrations to be held during the convention.

Girls Listed

According to information released yesterday by Mrs. Miriam Lark Marcks, vocational homemaking supervisor for Monroe and Northampton Counties, these are the FFA girls from this area who are attending the convention.

From Polk Township—Carole Anwalt, group leader; Judy Wenner, Mae Smith, Shirley Griffith, Marion Berger and Lila Mae Shultz with Mrs. Marian Mackes, adviser and teacher.

From Pocono Township—Ruth Warner, Carol Pechatka, Janet Starnor, Shirley Bitterman and Mrs. June Young, adviser and teacher.

From Bangor—Kay Stiles, Marion Jacob Martha Long, Lila Hill, Sandra Lohman and Miss Dorothy Everitt, adviser and teacher; Maxine Ackerman and Shirley Fritz, students who will serve as evaluator and tabulator for the series of discussion groups.

From Chestnut-hill Township—Greta Ewe, Judy Gould, Carolyn Smith, Sandra Sniffin, Barbara Schultz and Mrs. Jeanette Mitchell, adviser and teacher.

Barrett Twp. Girls

From Barrett Township—Joan Cramer, Jane Snyder, Clara Jones, Mary Etta DiFuria, Virginia Bar-bidge, Glenda Englert, Anna Marie Russo, John Austin, and Barbara Hayes. Mrs. Louis Johnson is the teacher. Mrs. Louis Johnson will not be among those attending the convention, however.

From Stroudsburg borough—Patricia Ludwig, Mildred Kulp, Flora Brands and Grace Holdorf. Miss Anna Russopolis will be the teacher attending the convention with the girls.

This is the 10th annual FFA convention to be held in Pennsylvania. Headquarters for the convention activity will be in Waring Hall on the State University campus.

An estimated 1,100 members and advisers will attend the convention. One of the highlights of the meeting will be an address by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of the university at the general session to be held Tuesday night.

The theme of this year's convention is "You and Your Tomorrow." The Monroe County delegation left from Polk High School in Kresgeville yesterday.

VFW Plans Installation

NEW OFFICERS will be installed tonight at Thomas P. Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Stroudsburg.

Installation ceremonies will be conducted in the auditorium of the post home. Installing officer will be Franklin Weller, past post commander.

The new officers include: Paul Weary, commander; Victor Morrison, senior vice commander; Franklin Clifton, junior vice commander; Fred Feller, chaplain; Frank J. Weller, quartermaster; William Loder, trustee for a three-year term and Dr. Evan C. Reese, post surgeon.

In addition to these elected officials, a number of appointive officers will also be installed.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR TUESDAY, JUNE 14, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Attend to urgent matters early since conditions may not be so easy later in the day. Don't neglect the "little" things; they often are vitally important. Be systematic.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Stop, look around you, deliberate. If you will, you will forestall mistakes, needless reticence of steps. Keep spirits high and mind on YOUR work; don't be disturbed by disappointments.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Favorable in more ways than one. Both heart and money matters favored by healthy influences. Some of you may find one phase decidedly more promising, agreeable than the other.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Fine prospects ahead if you will devote full time to essentials, worthwhile matters, and forget non-essentials. Calm thinking and procedure are necessary to achieve success.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—You could make this most productive day. It will require vigor and initiative, however, and careful planning. Do not rush into things unprepared.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—The distracting "noise" of what others are doing, and how you can better your methods or plans. You are capable; show your best every day.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Don't let anything disturb your equilibrium. You will need a calm, thoughtful attitude. Set to work optimistically and follow through consistently to achieve top results.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—There may be a tendency to mark this day off as the "rainy" day, but judging this title can be accomplished, but take a fresh look; give it a true

Scorpio analysis. The chances are the day is good, returns.

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—The outlook may seem to read "inactive, non-productive." But you can turn the tide to achievement with faith, consistent endeavor and optimism; give generously of Sagittarius' self-reliance and enterprising talents.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Let your past record speak for you. You may be swamped. Your own attitude will greatly govern your results—as it so often does. Think!

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—A personal life and given rounded confidence. You are not to be friendly, but that is nothing new. Others have the same old, old story.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—This day's influences will be less contentious than you may surmise at first. Your knack for making good decisions will help considerably. So will a spirit of self-lessness.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Among Gemini's most versatile natives, with the Sun as well as "stimulating" Mercury favorable, expect when you were born. There is great promise for you who live right, progress honestly, develop your God-given rounded confidence and be inwardly content and you will go quickly up the ladder of success.

217 Attend Banquet For ESHS Alumni

MARSHALLS CREEK—The East Stroudsburg High School alumni banquet was attended by 217 members and guests Saturday night at Mountain Lake House.

During election of officers, Charles Reid Jr. was named new president of the alumni association. Other officers chosen were Foster Minnich, first vice president; Jack Lantz, second vice president; James Harmon Jr., third vice president; Louise Prata, secretary and Clifford Lambert, treasurer.

Honored guests who attended the banquet were Jacob M. Hill, Mrs. Maude Stem, Mrs. Elizabeth Hull, Mrs. Henry Karbel, James Bunnell, Fred Bush and Mrs. Ruth McGill, all of whom graduated from the high school 50 years or more in the past.

Class Of 1930 Honored

The 25-year class (1930) won the cup for the largest representation at the reunion. The cup was accepted by Jay Snover.

Members of the nominating committee were Robert Hartman, Frank Lanterman and Mrs. Victor Hoehne. In a brief address following announcement of the selection of officers, Reid expressed his thanks to the group for choosing him as the new association president.

The 1955 class was inducted into membership in the alumni association. Robert Hinton was spokesman for the class.

The meeting was opened with an invocation by Mrs. Maude Stem, a member of the class of 1900. Robert Hartman, vocal music instructor in the school system, led the group in singing.

Five Fined Following Auto Crash

MOUNT POCONO — Five men from Philadelphia paid fines and costs totaling $75 after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct charges before Justice of Peace Emma Merwin yesterday at 10 a.m.

The five men were arrested early Sunday morning after their auto ran off the road near Henryville, hit a bridge and a stone abutment, caught on fire and burned.

Driver of the car was Eli Carola, 35, of 1404 S. 28th St., Philadelphia. His passengers were Thomas J. Murphy, Daniel P. Dougherty, James J. Fagan and Louis Delaney, all of Philadelphia.

All five men pleaded guilty to the disorderly conduct charges. They were fined $10 each and ordered to pay $5 each in costs.

State Trooper Robert Latzo, Mount Pocono sub-station, who investigated the incident and filed the original charges, said last night that a reckless driving charge will probably be filed against Carola sometime today.

Newfoundland

Robert J. Staph

A SON WAS born to Mr. and Mrs. William Lee in the Hahnemann hospital, Scranton, Tuesday. He is the couple's first child.

Mrs. Charles Phillips is a patient in the same hospital.

A program of sacred music will be performed in the local high school auditorium by a chorus of 35 voices Sunday, July 3 at 8:15. The program, which will also feature smaller vocal groups, is under the direction of Rev. Frederick Fulmer, pastor of the Newfoundland Moravian church.

A son, their second, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gumble at the Christman hospital here June 3. The infant is named Thomas Frederick.

Robert Krieger has received a temporary appointment as postmaster of the Greentown post-office.

Ladies of Paupack Rebekah lodge will meet in the IOOF hall Norfolk, Virginia, last December. It will be a feature of the meeting. Members are urged to bring a trimmed hat.

Students of colleges and universities home for the summer holiday include: Clarence Roeger, Scot Brown and Paul Gilpin, Penn State University; William Hahn, Franklin and Marshall College; Ross Smith, Larry Belcher and David Carlton, West Chester State Teachers College; Connie Drake, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College; Georgia Bewley, Drew University.

Registration for the summer music and recreational program, conducted through Extension Education, Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, should be done at the local school Monday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. John Strupecki heads the former, Art Smith the latter.

Band rehearsals will begin Thursday night with the junior band scheduled for 7 p. m. and the senior band at 8 p. m. Rehearsals will continue throughout the summer on Thursdays.

Robert W. Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Carr, Angels, is serving aboard the USS Midway as an aviation boatswain second class. The Midway is currently on a round-the-world cruise, having left Norfolk, Virginia, last December.

Dr. Harold S. Pond will be out of town beginning Saturday, June 4 through Monday, June 20.—Adv.

Miss Pocono Contest Set For June 24

THE MISS America Pageant and its cooperating clubs and individuals over the nation have opened a path to success for talent and beauty as exemplified by the typical American girl.

The pageant gives ambitious and talented young women an opportunity to advance in career through proper education and training. This is made possible through a scholarship program on a local, state and national level.

The Pocono Mountains Magazine is sponsoring the "Miss Pocono Mountains" pageant at Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono, Friday, June 24.

One of the highlights will be the crowning of the local winner by Miss Barbara Sue Nager, a Philadelphia girl, who was selected last fall as "Miss Pennsylvania" and who also was a runner-up in the finals for the Miss America title. Each state queen reigns one year until the next Miss Pennsylvania is selected.

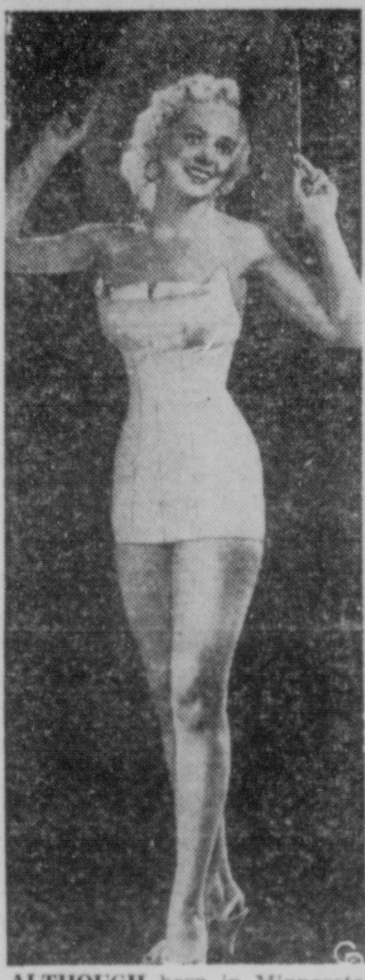

A bevy of talented and pretty girls from the Pocono area have entered the pageant, and will vie for the Miss Pocono Mountains crown. The winner will participate in the State finals when the 1956 Miss Pennsylvania will be selected at West Chester State Teachers College, July 8-9. All winners throughout the state will receive an all-expense paid trip to the state finals, including her chaperone.

Should Miss Pocono Mountains be selected as Miss Pennsylvania, she will take part in the Miss America pageant in September in Atlantic City.

In order to help the local contestants and provide them with in opportunity to try out their talent, Skyline Inn has planned an outdoor staging arrangement, with lighting equipment, music and laurel background for the setting of the presentation. Judges will select the winner and the judges' decision is final. The winner will be selected for her talent, personality, pleasing appearance, character and intelligence. The contestants appear before the audience in formal gowns and will have as mistress of ceremonies, Mrs. Paul Craigie, social director of Skyline Inn.

The pageant not only gives a scholarship for talented girls, but aids in training a contestant who has potential talents. For instance, she may give a three minute talk on a career in the legal profession, medical profession, nursing, school teaching, dramatics, advertising, or other business.

Mrs. Robert Miller, publisher of the Pocono Mountains magazine, said the public is invited to the show which begins at 9 p.m. No admission will be charged, but a donation is requested of those attending. Proceeds will go to Mount Pocono YMCA Building Fund, Skyline Inn and the Pocono Mountains Magazine.

ALTHOUGH born in Minnesota, Beth Andre, 18, will represent Arizona, in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, N. J. Beth, who is ready to take a job as a dental hygienist if she can't become an actress, has been living in Phoenix for several years.

tains Magazine are members of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau.
